Public Art Projects

2018 The People's Forest. Museum London, London, Ontario, Canada.

Made for Canada's Sesquicentennial, The People's Forest incorporated various demographics of London's community and encouraged them to self-represent through guided creation of a large-scale community tree.

These trees were displayed and part of a collaborative art project at Museum London's Canada Day event. Represented groups included LUSO youth, immigrant poets from the London Poetry Society and others.
